Review: Bar Mitts

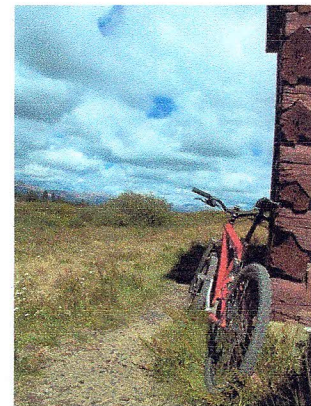

I wanted to try Bar Mitts for years, but for some reason never picked up a pair. Over the summer I saw them on sale at Wilderness Voyageurs (apparently June is not a hot time for winter bike accessories). I picked up a pair and have used them for the last month since it started getting cold. I am kicking myself for not getting them earlier.

I have cold hands, that's an understatement. I have been using a mix of mountaineering gloves for years on the bike. My favorite being OR Endeavor Mittens with OR PL 400 Fleece Mittens beneath, which I use hiking and snow shoeing, etc. But that is a big glove to use on a bike. It looks like I am ready to go boxing not ride a bike.
